You Were There

A story is told of a woman whose husband lay in bed dying, going in and out of a coma. One day, he woke up and reached out to draw her close. As she sat next to him, he began to whisper his remembrances.

"You have been right there beside me through all the rough times. You were there when I got fired. You were there when my business failed. You were there when we lost the house. And you've been right here by my side as my health has failed and I lay dying." Finally he paused and asked, "You know what?"

"What, dearest?" she asked as she wiped a tear from her eye.

"I think you're bad luck," he muttered as he turned his head slipping back to sleep.

It's important to learn to focus on the positives in others. If we choose to focus on the negative, it won't matter how much good there might be, we'll find plenty to complain about. But sometimes it can be a challenge even to find that one praiseworthy thing.

1 Corinthians 1:4

I always thank my God for you because of his grace given you in Christ Jesus.

When Paul couldn't think of a single good thing for which to praise the Corinthians, he thanked God for how good God had been to them. The same is true for us because there's always something positive we can find to say. Look hard enough and you'll find it, too.

I love you all, Tim
