YOUTH CORNER

BY: Matt

Forgiveness is seldom easy, but it is always right. When we forgive those who have hurt us, we honor God by obeying his commandments. But when we harbor bitterness against others, we disobey God- with predictably unhappy results. Are you easily frustrated by the inevitable shortcomings of others? Are you a prisoner of bitterness or regret? If there exists even one person, alive or dead, whom you have not forgiven (including yourself), follow God's commandment and His will for your life: forgive that person today. And remember that bitterness, anger, and regret are not part of God's plan for your life. Forgiveness is. Learning how to forgive and forget is one of the secrets of a happy Christian life.

Blessed are the merciful, because they will be shown mercy. Matthew 5:7

Dear Church Family

Because of all the prayers given in my behalf, I feel my life has been spared and I am blessed with much improved health.

I am grateful to all of you that have prayed for me and my family and for any acts of kindness and expressions of concern shown us.

From loving and grateful hearts,

David Tucker and Family

Next Sunday, March 16th, is our POTLUCK Luncheon and early service. Please make plans to join us.
