A Word from Bruce

[There are] 43 kings of Israel and Judah. Out of those 43 kings only 8 of them would fit into the category of "good." The other 35 were evil, wicked and self-centered and they did nothing but waste their lives.

One of the tasks of a king was to prepare his son to lead the kingdom for the next generation. None of them did that except David. After failing with his other three sons, David got focused on mentoring Solomon. Fathers are to prepare their sons to lead their families for the next generation. When I used to play checkers with my dad, I would get my checker all the way across the board and then I would say, "Dad, king me!" Every boy wants a dad who will prepare him to be the man that God intends.

I am really pleased to announce that my new book, King Me, is off the presses. It's for fathers and grandfathers who want to play a strategic role in mentoring the next generation of their families. – Steve Farrar

We will be using Steve's book, King Me for the men's study group on Thursdays during the lunch hour. I hope you men can arrange your schedules to attend. Whether you have boys to "King" or encouragement to give, this time is for you!

See ya at the gathering place!

Every day, like every life, is composed of moments. Each moment of your life holds within it the potential to seek God's will and to serve His purposes. If you are wise, you will strive to do both.

An important part of wisdom is the wise use of time. How will you invest your time today? Will you savor the moments of your life, or will you squander them? Will you use your time as an instrument of God's will, or will you allow commonplace distractions to rule your day and your life? The gift of time is a gift from God. Treat it as if it were a precious, fleeting, one-of-a-kind treasure. Because it is!

Lord, tell me when the end will come and how long I will live. Let me know how long I have. You have given me only a short life..... Everyone's life is only a breath.

KIDS: We will resume with KFC beginning this Wednesday, September 9th at 6:00 p.m. for Kindergarten through 5th grade.

We have started our Friday High School Lunch. If you would like to help with this great outreach program, please see Bettie Lu or Elizabeth.

There is a sign-up sheet on the activity table to host the AIMer's for lunch. Keep in mind there are twelve and you may wish to have another family assist in the serving. The kitchen, fellowship hall and family room are available to you. May God bless you as you minister to our AIM students.
